

November 2016

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

Each year during the holidays we reflect upon the past, share special moments with our families, friends and loved ones, and look ahead to a new year filled with promise and opportunity.

In this season of hope and joy, we gather together to celebrate the values we share, embrace our differences, and give thanks for the many gifts we often take for granted – family and friends, freedom and peace, health and happiness. We also pause to remember the brave men and women in uniform serving in lands far from home protecting our country and defending our liberty.

As Mayor, I am grateful to the citizens of Creedmoor and our Board of Commissioners for their participation, passion, and commitment to making our community the best it can be. I am thankful to each and every city employee for their dedication, sacrifice and service to Creedmoor. Together, we are making Creedmoor an outstanding place to live, work, play, and raise a family.

During this holiday season, we are also reminded of our responsibility to help those in need and the less fortunate. Your efforts have helped nurture those who are sick, comfort those who suffer, feed those who are hungry, and bring hope for those who despair. You truly make a difference in the lives of those around us by spreading goodwill, and we thank you for your generous efforts.

As the New Year approaches, we look ahead with great optimism and anticipation. We remain committed to meeting the diverse needs of our citizens, maintaining an outstanding quality of life, and working to ensure that all residents share in our success.

My best wishes to you and your loved ones for a joyous Christmas and a happy, healthy and successful New Year.

May God bless you and your families during this holiday season, and may God bless America.
