

CITY OF CREEDMOOR CITIZEN'S POLICE ACADEMY

The Citizen's Police Academy is an exciting way to learn about police work. Through a well-prepared curriculum taught once a week for eight weeks, students will learn about the various aspects of police operations. Academy participants will meet many of the men and women who serve in the Creedmoor Police Department as they explain the roles of police officers, investigators, and administrators. Participants will also learn how officers are trained, and how every citizen can help protect themselves and their community against crime.

An important and exciting phase of the academy is providing participants with the opportunity to leave the classroom and participate in many of the practical exercises. This experience will give the participants a first-hand look at the dynamic world of policing in the twenty-first century.

Applicants must be 18 years of age or older and submit to a limited background investigation by the Creedmoor Police Department which includes a check of their criminal history and driving record. Acceptance into the program will be on an individual basis as determined by the Chief of Police. Class space is limited, but a waiting list will be held for future classes should the demand exceed available space.

The Citizen's Police Academy is an excellent way for community members to become better informed about crime and public safety. It also gives Creedmoor residents and other community stakeholders an opportunity to develop working relationships with Police Department members. Attached to this document is the academy schedule and course application. Please complete the form in its entirety and return to the Police Department by the date indicated. If you require notary services, the CPD will happily provide them free of charge. Once the process is complete you will be contacted by a member of the agency to finalize the registration process.

If you have any questions or concerns please let me know.

Sincerely,

Keith E. King
Chief of Police

The first session of the Citizen's Police Academy will provide participants with an overview of the Creedmoor Police Department. Policies and procedures will be discussed to gain a better understanding of police operations. Students will also have an opportunity to meet the Police Department management team. This session will also focus on the roles played by other criminal justice organizations outside the police department, as well as how those entities working hand in hand with the police department in the pursuit of justice. Citizens will learn about a variety of services available to them through various criminal justice organizations.

WEEK 2

This session includes a discussion of the three sources of law, comparing and contrasting reasonable suspicion and probable cause, and comparing and contrasting the terms "voluntary contact", "investigative detention", and "arrest." Students will learn about the types of searches an officer may conduct without a search warrant, the legal concepts of custody, interview, and interrogation as they apply to Miranda rights, and the difference between criminal offenses and civil matters. Students will also discuss elements of common crimes.

WEEK 3

CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATION

Students will receive a general overview of different scenarios encountered by investigators at crime scenes. The dangers of contamination, methods of properly documenting scenes, and collecting evidence will be presented. Students will have an opportunity to take part in practical exercises.

WEEK 4

DRUG / GANG AWARENESS / K-9

As with any city, Creedmoor experiences its share of drug and gang related crime. Since the use and distribution of illegal narcotics is often the root of many other crimes, and because gangs and drugs generally go hand-in-hand, enforcement is a major priority for the Creedmoor Police Department. In this session, the class will discuss some of the strategies and resources officers utilize to suppress and combat this type of criminal activity. Students will also be provided with information that will allow them to join with police in recognizing and reporting gang/drug related crimes as well as useful information they can share with others seeking to overcome drug addiction or gang involvement. In addition, this session provides class members with a chance to ask questions of K-9 officers who will be on hand to explain police canine operations and conduct demonstrations.

WEEK 5POLICE USE OF FORCE/ SCAT

Questions answered in this session include: How often must Creedmoor police officers resort to force to affect an arrest? How do we ensure officers use only the amount of force necessary? What weapons are issued to and utilized by Creedmoor Police Officers? Students will learn how officers are trained in the use of force and how difficult decisions regarding the use of force are made. A portion of this session will be “hands-on” and will provide participants with a chance to interact with “suspect” role players in a variety of practical exercises. Also included are exercises involving the implementation of a variety of force options.

WEEK 6VEHICLE STOPS

Another inherently dangerous task performed by police officers is traffic stops along with the subsequent interaction with drivers and passengers. In this block of instruction, class members will be presented with basic information pertaining to the actual stop of the vehicle, environmental dangers faced by the officer, and some procedures for conducting records checks associated with the encounter. Participants will also have an opportunity to conduct mock traffic stops during a practical exercise, and learn what to do if they are stopped by a law enforcement officer.

WEEK 7FIREARMS (off-site)

During this practical exercise session, the class will have the opportunity to revisit the issue of use-of-force as it pertains to deadly encounters. With the use of actual duty gear and service weapons, participants will be exposed to demonstrations and practical exercises that address weapon grip, draw, presentation, sight alignment, trigger manipulation, breathing and much more. Students will also be provided with resources that will allow them to be responsible firearms owners. Resources permitting, this session will be unique in that students will use a training weapon to fire simulated rounds at a variety of training targets.

WEEK 8COMMUNITY POLICING / GRADUATION

The final session of the Creedmoor Citizen’s Police Academy is a summation of how participants can work with police to create a safer community. Instructors will discuss common sense strategies for preventing crime before it is committed, and students will be provided with suggestions on how to better secure themselves and their property from criminal activity. Students who successfully complete the course are awarded a certificate in recognition of their participation and partnership with the agency.
